

Prototipagem: tornar as ideias reais

O processo da prototipagem

PROCESSO LINEAR

INOVAÇÃO = PROCESSO ITERATIVO E CÍCLICO

Protótipos

- São perguntas incorporadas para que as ideias possam ser testadas de forma eficiente e eficaz, e ver o que as pessoas pensam.
- Servem, assim, para aprender mais sobre as pessoas que estamos a tentar servir, i.e. as necessidades dos clientes.
- Permitem descobrir quais as propostas que criam valor, e ajudar a estabelecer compromissos acerca de quais as ideias a prosseguir e quais devem ser abandonadas.

Os 2 tipos de prototipagem

Comunicação

- Momento de exploração
- Decidir o que criar
(um produto, um serviço ou um modelo de negócio)

Validação

- Chegar a uma solução
- Limitar e investir em ideias para chegar a uma solução

David Schonthal, A toolkit for breakthrough innovation – Field Guide, Kellogg School of Management

Localização
Para onde vai?

Check in Quando?

Checkout
Quando?

Hóspedes
Quantos?

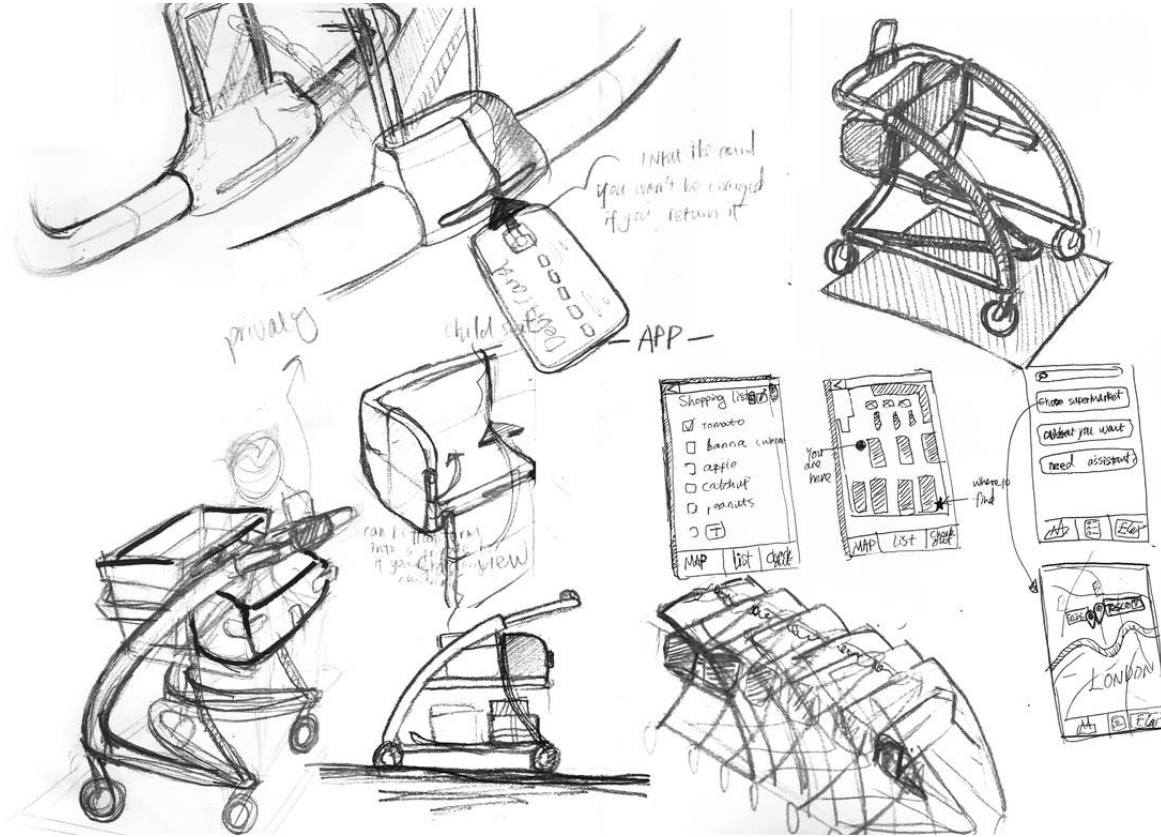

Protótipos = perguntas incorporadas

1. Identificar as hipóteses
2. Escolher as mais relevantes
3. Testá-las rapidamente – “prototipagem rápida”

Protótipar objetos/dispositivos

Protótipar serviços ou processos

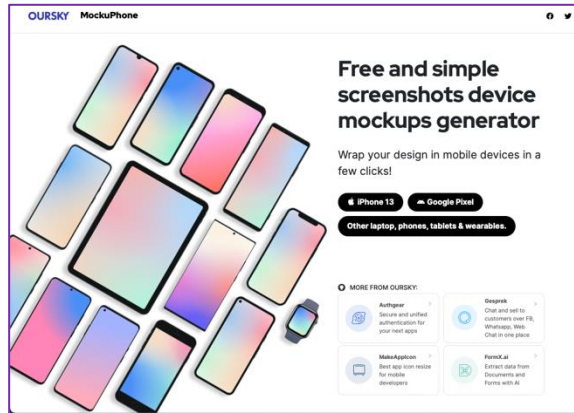

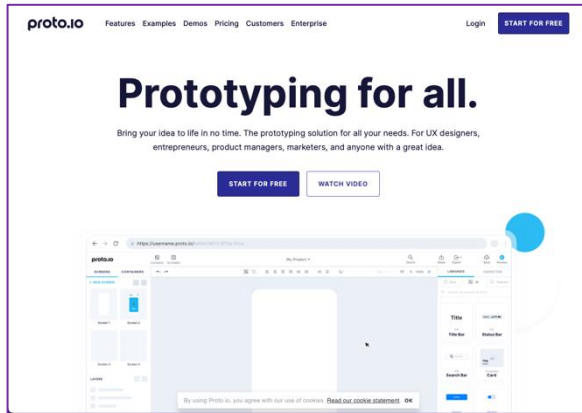

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jTageuhPfAM>

Mockups

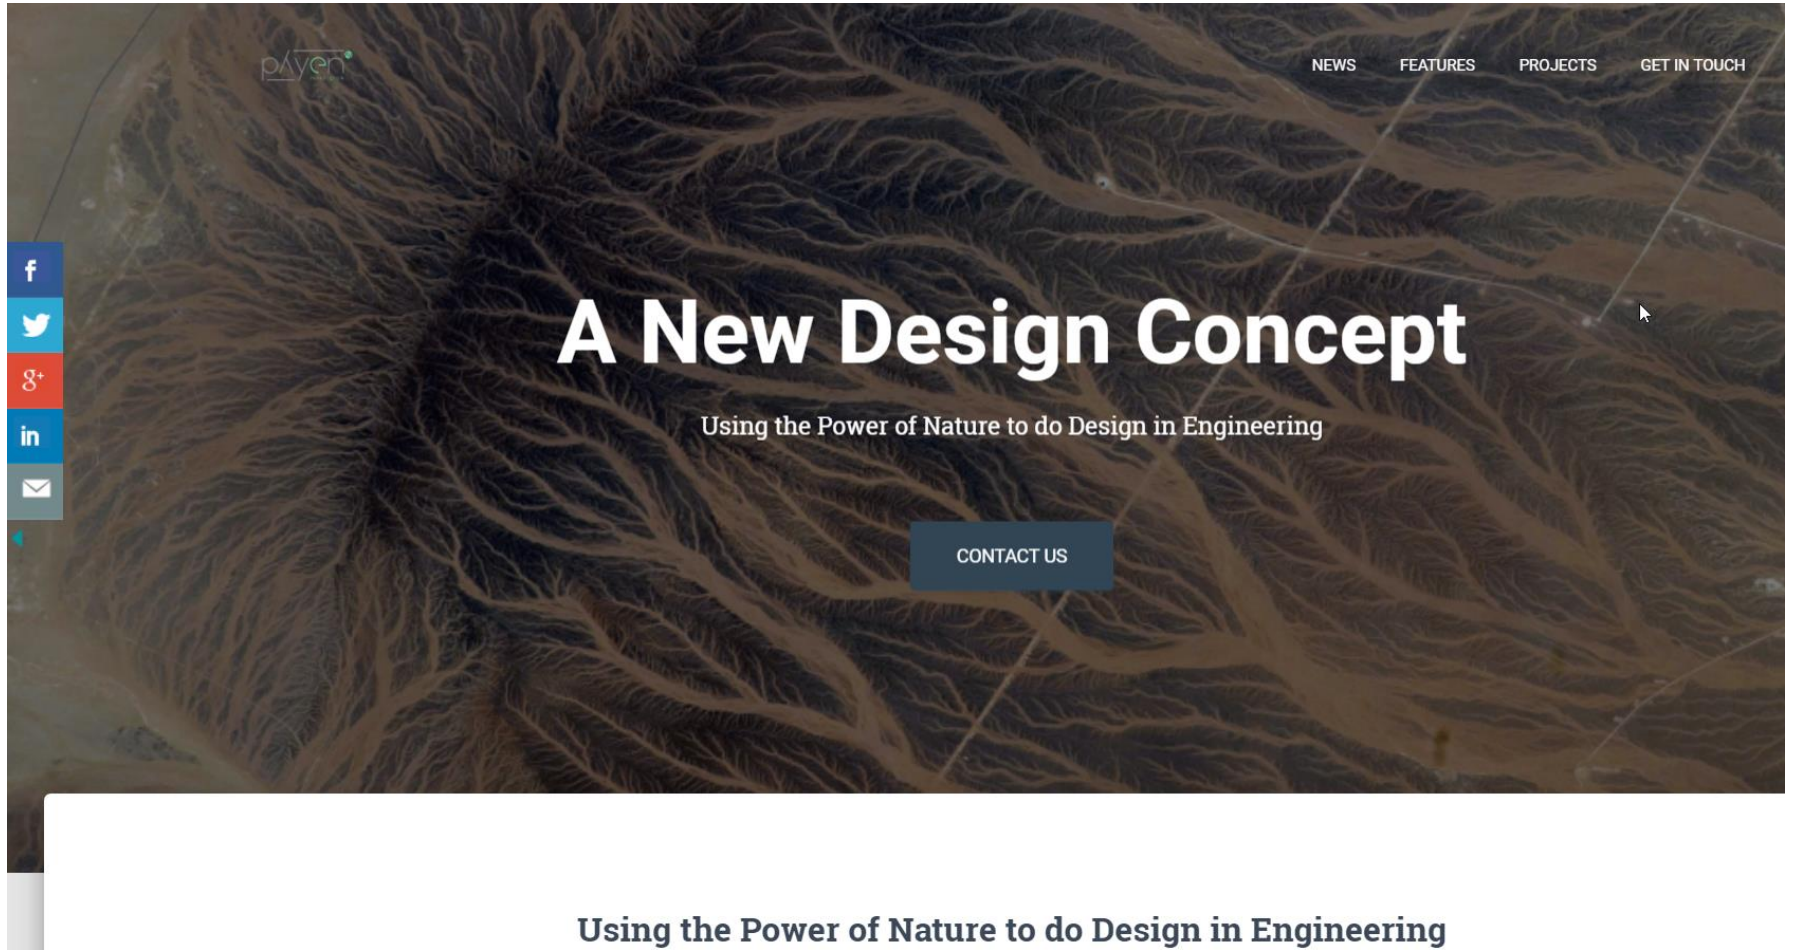

THE BEST NEXT THING

Thoughts and Resources Around the Art + Craft of New Venture Creation.

<https://thebestnextthing.com/some-of-our-favorite-tools-and-content/prototyping/>

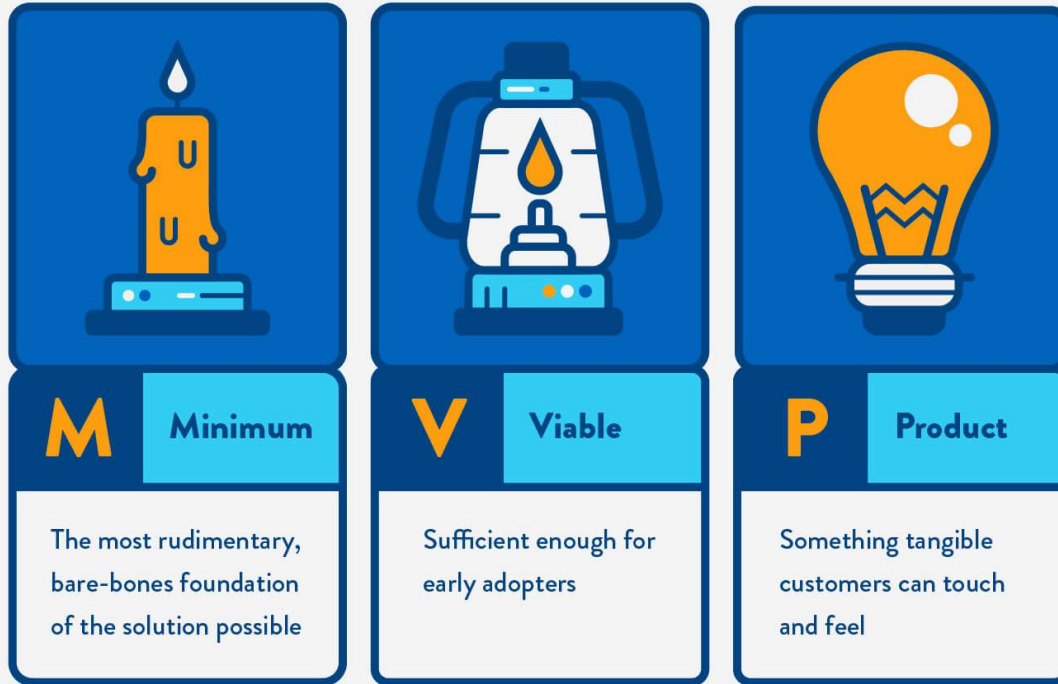

“landing page”

MVP

WHAT IS A MINIMUM VIABLE PRODUCT

<https://clevertap.com/blog/minimum-viable-product/>

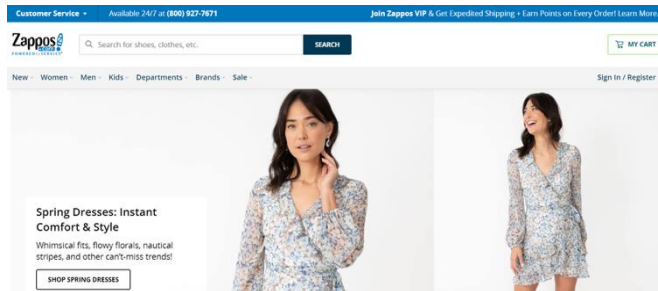

MVP

But technically, a minimum viable product should prove two concepts.

- The first, building on the proof of concept — knowing that developing this app is actually feasible.
- And two, that customers are willing to pay for the app.

<https://clevertap.com/blog/minimum-viable-product/>

Join Extra Crunch

Login

Search Q

TC Early Stage 2021

Startups

Videos

Audio

Newsletters

Extra Crunch

The TC List

Advertise

Events

—

More

Amazon Buys Zappos; The Price is $928m., not $847m.

Sarah Lacy @sarahcuda / 9:21 PM GMT+1 • July 22, 2009

Comment

News has just broken that Amazon.com has purchased hot ecommerce up-and-comer Zappos for 10 million Amazon shares or $880 million. (The Amazon release said it was $807 million, but that was based on a trailing 45-day estimate of its share price. Closing price today bumps the deal up to ~~$880~~ $888 million.) Zappos employees also will get $40 million in cash and restricted stock. In other words the deal is more like ~~$920~~ $928 million all told. And Zappos management will remain in place.

This is a great exit for Zappos' investors, including Sequoia Capital and Venture Frogs, who put in about $60 million in seven rounds.

<https://techcrunch.com/2009/07/22/amazon-buys-zappos/>

Nick Swinmurn, founder of Zappos

One day I was at the mall and couldn't find a pair of the Airwalk desert boots I wanted. So I thought, Why not do an online shoe store? I went to Footwear Etc. in Sunnyvale [Calif.] and said, "I'll take some pictures, put your shoes online, and if people buy them, I'll buy them from you at full price." The store said okay, and I got a few orders. Then I went to a shoe show and thought, I need to put this giant collection online.

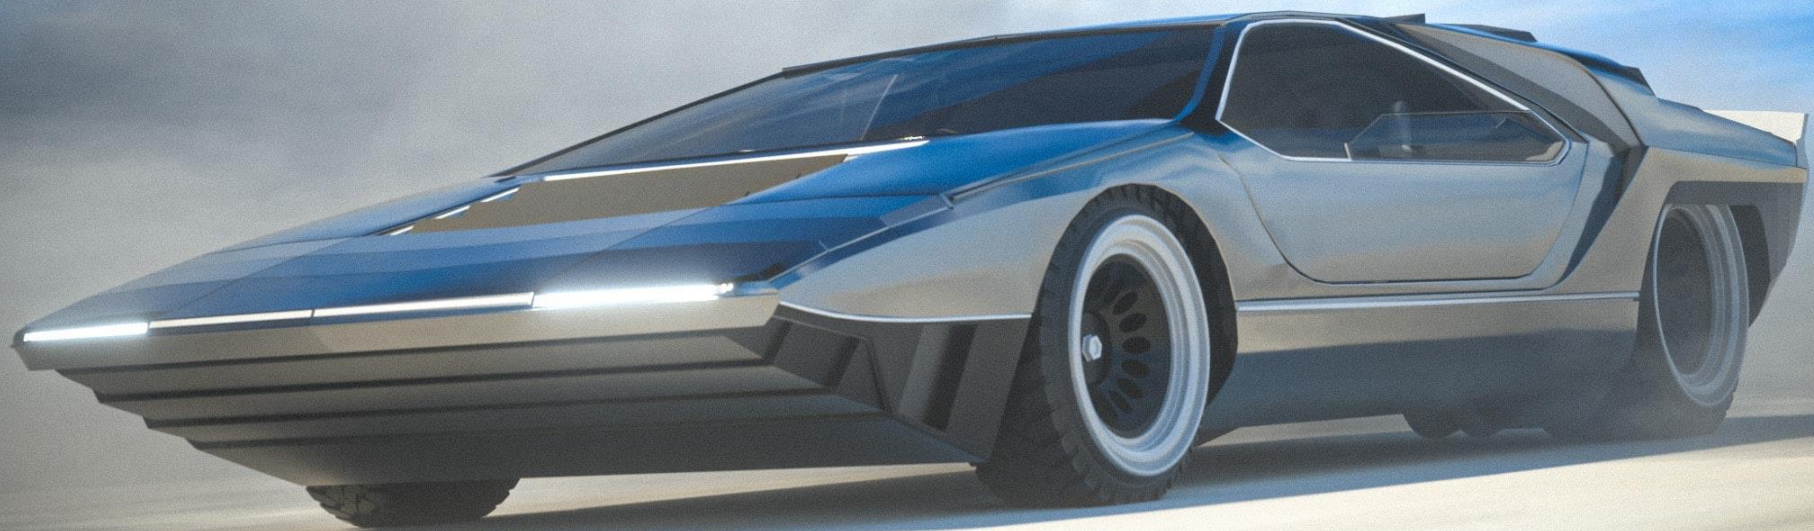

I was getting nothing but noes from people (...). I met with Tony Hsieh, who'd just sold his company, and he was really enthusiastic. I told him the U.S. footwear market was $40 billion in 1998, and at that time, 5% of all the shoes sold were sold through mail-order catalogues. So one out of 20 shoes were already sold through the mail before the Internet. A couple of days later Tony and his partner Alfred Lin wrote up a term sheet, Fred joined us, and we were in business. They gave us $500,000 initially.

<http://fortune.com/2012/09/05/nick-swinmurn-zappos-silent-founder/>

Zappos' original MVP from 1999

<https://www.quora.com/Where-can-I-find-a-screenshot-of-the-original-Zappos-MVP-webpage>

Bons protótipos!